To-day is the eightieth anniversary of the birth of Henry Ward Beecher. There will be a Beecher anniversary meeting to morrow evening in Associa-tion Hall, at Fulton and Bond sts., under the direc-tion of the Brooklyn Institute. Dr. Charles H. Hall, of Holy Trinity Church, will preside and make a brief address. Dr. Lyman Abbott will make the principal speech. There were Beecher memorial services in Public School No. 3, in Hancock-st., yesterday afternoon. Dr. Edward Beecher was among those present. The pupils of the school read and recited from Mr. Beecher's works and from writings about him. Some of his favorite hymns were sung. Brief ad-dresses were made by Dr. Rossiter W. Raymond, General G. T. Christensen and F. W. Hinrichs.

L. WECHSLER SUED FOR EREACH OF PROMISE.

A suit for breach of promise of marriage has been begun by Miss Martha Wilson, who was formerly a caleswoman in the drygoods house of Wechsler & Abraham, against Louis Wechsler, eldest son of Joseph Wechsler, who was the head of the firm until it dissolved. The young man recently entered into partnership with his brother and Major P. H. McNulty to open a big drygcods house at Fulton-st, and Redford-ave. Miss Wilson is about twenty-two years old, and was employed in the drygoods house of Wechsler & Abraham for several years. Young Mr. Wechsler paid her especial attentions for about two years, and was frequently at her counter in the They went to theatres together, and he used to accompany her home from business. She brings the suit in her own name, and alleges that Mr. Weehsler visited her frequently at her parents' home, and that about a year ago he asked her to narry him. she refused at the time, but when the About five months ago she left her parents' home and went to live in lodgings. About two months ago and went to live in lodgings. About two months ago Mr. Wechsler ceased to visit her. The last time he called she asked him when he would redeem his promise and marry her, and he said that on account of his new business venture he could not keep the engagement. She has many letters and notes from him.

Mr. Wechsler is about thirty-two years old and lives with his father in Eighth-ave. His counsel is W. J. Gaynor, who admits that the suit is begun.

THE MAYOR SIGNS THE FRANCHISES. Mayor Boody affixed his signature yesterday to the resolutions of the Board of Aldermen granting franchises covering about thirty miles of streets to the Brooklyn City, the Nassan Electric and the Kings County Electric Companies, and refusing the offer of the Union Street Railway Company of $257,000 for in consideration of the payment of a percentage on the gross receipts of travel on each mile of the road. W. J. Gaynor, who secured the injunction to restrain the Mayor from signing previous resolutions granting the same franchises without compensation, has taken no legal steps in the present case and refused to say last evening whether he would or not. He said that the signing of the resolutions was the work, not of the Mayor, but of men who stood behind him.

THE ROYAL ARCANUM'S ANNIVERSARY.

Last night was a gala one for the members of Royal Arcanum in Kings County. It was the sixtsenth anniversary of the foundation of the order, and it was celebrated with a big street parade. About 10,000 men were in line, representing forty-three councils. There was abundance of fireworks and music. The parade was divided into four divisions, each council being esignated by an appropriate banner or transparency. The grand marshal was J. George Herrold, jr., and his ave, fountain in the Eastern District. The line of march was from Bedford-ave. to Lafayette-ave., to Raymond-st., to Feurth-ave., to Union-st., to Clinton, to Remsen-st., to the City Hall, where the parade was reviewed by the officers and Mayor Boody and then

The four divisions comprised the following councils Washington Irving, Iolanthe, Kings County, Stayweant, Ocean Hill, Pro Patrin, Eushwick, Bay Ridge, Manhasset, Franklin, Carroll Park, Oxford, Fraternity, De Long, East New-York, Philadelphos, Ridgewood, Gilbert, General Putnam, Amaranth, Bedford, Welcome, Osceola, Bievoort, Atlantic and Gramercy.

GATHERED ABOUT THE TOWN.

Judge Clement handed down a decision in the City Court yesterday in the suits brought on behalf of a number of policemen and firemen to have the question settled in regard to the right of the Board of Estimate to fix their salaries at sums less than $1,200, to the effect that the Board had such a right under the law. The suits were brought to recover a large amount of back pay, and an appeal will be taken.

The new edition of the Brooklyn Directory for 1893-94 has appeared. It contains 1,448 pages, and there are 200,836 names, an increase of 9,981 over las year. An excellent map of the city and a full municipal register add greatly to the value of the book for reference purposes. It is well bound in

Mr. Stratton's son said that his father was willing to have arrangements made with the butcher and grocer to od sent to his wife, and Police Justice Haggerty told Mr. Stratton that It was his Imperative duty supply food to his wife. All means must be used to provide her with necessary means of existence.

DELTA PHI FRATERNITY CATALOGUE.

The 1893 triennial catalogue of the Delta Phi Fraternity has just been sent out from the press. It is a large volume of 500 pages, bound in red morocco, over published by the fraternity. It shows the fra-ternity to have twelve chapters and 1,784 living members. The Delta Phi Club, at No. 56 East Forty-ninth-st., of which T. J. Oakley Rhinelander is president, has 179 members. The active chapters are those of Union, Brown, University of the City of New-York, Columbia, Rutgers, Harvard, University of Pennsylvania, Rensselaer, Polytechnic Institute, Le-high, Johns Hopkins, Yale and Cornell.

RAPID TRANSIT SITUATION UNCHANGED.

The Manhattan's Committee on Elevated Railway The Manhattan's Committee on Elevated Railway Extension will probably meet on Tuesday to consider the propositions of the Rapid Transit Commission. It was said yesterday that if the Manhattan Company should accept either of the two new propositions an increase in the capitalization of the company would be made. It is estimated that the extensions as proposed by the new plans would cost about $12,000,000. There were no new developments the the said transit of the company would the cost about $12,000,000.

The trip had been promised to the yachtsmen when Captain Andersen first met in the outcome of the will of Mrs. Mary E. Backley, them a week ago. Yesterday was the first possible opportunity.

The guests met at the Castle Garden pler at 1 o'clock, and were conveyed to the Viking by the tug Flerence. The threatening weather had little to do in keeping the invited away from a chance for a sail in the strange little Norseman, and about fifty were present. Mate Gundersen received the guests, and Captain Andersen, who arrived on board the Viking shortly after, gave all a hearty welcome. Sall was holsted, and as the great square piece of red and white striped canvas rose over the slim boat she moved slowly away. There was scarcely enough breeze to fill the sail, and until the Battery was reached the movement was slow. But once by fairly flew across the choppy waves. At this time, too, the sun came out. About the Norseman were many tugs blowing their whistles frantically. sengers on the passing steamers waved their hats and shouted, and the little boat dipped her colors. Captain Andersen and Captain Louis Blix, of the tugboat John Fuller, were in command of the Viking, and Pilot Chapman directed her course.

On the long table of the Viking tall glasses filled with "Viking" beer, or thin, small glasses with rich Nerwegian punch, as preferred. The return trip was made in tow of the tug Florence, and at 6 o'clock the little boat dropped anchor again at Thirty-fourth the Viking sang an old Norse song of farewell.

Among those who enjoyed the trip were, from the New-York Yacht Club, Secretary J. V. S. Oddie, William Buchanan, Charles P. Buchanan, Alonzo B. Jones, W. S. Vernam, T. B. Asten and F. T. Robinson Others present were Harry Randall, Barber Engelsen, of Brooklyn; Captain Ullnass, superintendent of the Scandinavian Saliors' Temperance Home; August Rey mert, Captain Assersen, U. S. A.; W. Captain Andersen's visit to Washington was both Captain Andersen's visit to Washington was both pleasant and successful. He was received by Norwegian Minister Grip, and by Commodore Ramsay, 1, 8, N., and called privately upon President Cleveland, who congratulated him on his safe arrival after his daring voyage, and said that the American people appreciated the compliment Norway had paid them. He was glad, too, that the Viking was to go to Chicago through American waters.

Commodore Ramsay said that he would be glad to give the Viking a tow as far as a naval boat could be commanded. With this understanding, Captain Andersen expects to start with the Viking Monday.

During some excavations recently in Wells-ave. the workmen came across the remains of what ap-peared to be an old tunnel leading from the direction The discovery of this ancient passage underground led to various conjectures as to its original purpose, and one of the most popular theories auggested was that it was constructed by the original proprietors of the manor for convenience in smuggling. Careful investigation does not bear out this theory. A more reasonable theory is that the underground passage was constructed for the purpose of affording the occupants of the manor a safe and convenient means of access to the blockhouse, which would be the natural refuge of the settlers in case of an Indian attack. That there was such a blockhouse at Yonkers served in the Documentary History of the State. The natural situation of this blockhouse would be on the high ground to the north of the manor house and in the direction in which the passage discovered underground way has disappeared. . . the country's welfare and prosperity."-President Cleveland, June 5, 1893, in his declaration that Congress will be called to meet in extra session to repeal the Silver bill.

SHALL WE HAVE FREE COINAGE?

THE TRIBUNE has published a remarkable pamphlet, 76 large pages, in which the Free Coinage question, so puzzling to the public mind, is argued out, formally, by that ardent advocate of Free Coinage on the old basis of 16 to 1, William M. Stewart, U. S. Senator from Nevada, on the one hand, and, on the other, by Roswell G. Horr, ex-Congressman from Michigan, a sturdy champion of the Republican doctrine that metallic dollars should contain as much metal as they are nominally

Each writer contributes six clearly written, pointed, and able papers to the Mr. Horr has the best of the argument:

but both the Free Silver and the Honest Silver Dollar men will find their respective cases stated strongly. Copies can be had at the Business Office
